... long long ago in the midst of a Universe amongst a Milky Way Galaxy planet Earth began. A jewel of a planet life radiated forth. Expressions of brilliance in era's through eon's that built abundant treasures over time.

And without limitations, mosaic's of lifeforms and mandala's of consciousness reached throughout dimensions and stretched over all the landscape.

Within purity and innocence abundance and prosperity flourished in the Laws of Creation.

In another time... not long ago, distortions of Truth crept into 'Legends of Old.' Laws of Creation were lost, and repeating loops of experience without them soon enveloped the generations.

In a short time... life became lived in captivity; a colony unaware.

Throughout this time... Savants of Wisdom had often appeared to show the Way, though mostly rejected, they left clues to the Keys to restore the Laws of Creation. Knowing the bankers of captivity would profit through deceptions, these keys to creation were buried. And the WAY lay dormant amid a lattice with the clues to the keys of the way hidden within a stairway of riddles. And neither the captive mind can activate the lattice in time, nor can the minds of the captors destroy the way of the keys without time, yet no one is denied access at any time.

Many teachings and cultures and rituals surround the stairway of riddles all Hopi-ng to unlock a Kingdom...

A Kingdom that is just not easy to explain.

For the 'Holiest of Secrets' were never written down...

The path you create comes from the seeds of thought you continually pay attention too. And your desires bring you the choices to make that will forge that path... so how to choose wisely seems like a valid concern. Wisdom is not aging and getting older, wisdom is gaining truth of knowledge, and then learning discernment to use in making choices. 'Creation' manifests itself through mutation and transmutation, implosion and explosion, duplication and multiplication. And freedom is won by quest and conquest where-by an in-fusion of Divine Intelligence; the innate omnipotence, omniscience, and omnipresence in its desire for expanse of itself emanates through infinite potential manifestations over time; animations of divinity.

Each of us is a wellspring of energy that lights up our circle of influence, an atomic reactor that self perpetuates, with or without a direction, either to create evil or create good. We all create our own circumstance, believe that or not, and thusly contribute to the masses harmonic- karmic circumstances according to our understanding; intentions, beliefs, rituals, and habits of thought. And giving away our power to something outside of ourselves only weakens the fabric of the 'Spirit' that we are made of; yet, if we are going to give away our power we may want to at least understand who we're giving our authority over too and what will the results be because of that. It has been anyone's business to bestow upon humanity an understanding (or derailment) of the full potential of what humans are capable of becoming, but no one on this planet can speak in steed on your behalf of the full capabilities of Divine Intelligence manifesting through and within one's own life. There is no scientist, priest, government, secret society, educator, media personality, doctor, guru, master, prophet, shaman, wizard, saint, angel, devil, or alien that has a say over your life (though both good and bad intentions are interjected). There are seemingly endless resources that tell it like it is, but in the end, it has only been what you have believed in what someone else told you is the way it is. And what do they- anyone, really know anyway that you couldn't have looked into yourself if you actually took the time to do so? Before one activates their 'gifts' one must know whom one is.

Introduction:

'Black Pearl' is neither a traditional self help book nor even a spiritual pathway manual. Instead a 'sequence of creation' is imagined and outlined in a framework of puzzle pieces, or simple snippets for the reader to ponder, contemplate and assimilate to use as tools for their own journey in becoming a creator being. For there really is a conscious effort in using your freewill to activate a 'process of manifestation' as each of us wholly participates in the unfoldment of all of creation whether consciously aware of that or not.

Simpleness can be as complex as you want it, read and reread to grasp nuances of subject matter hidden in plain sight- a fast read this is not. Your own research will find you in the midst of a world of confusion until you discover breakthroughs (the dirt one digs to uncover the treasures) from all the various teachings, facts, scientific methods, religious doctrines, educational paths, medical practices, governmental systems and media entrainment that have been lambasted upon you like scenes in a movie. And as you delve into these puzzle pieces along with a sense of adventure enlightening results may just transpire in your own life. You also may discover your own self-empowerment; an empowerment indeed to create your life within and activate the atomic reactor dormant within you that pulses with creational radiance in which to manifest your reality out of.

For a moment take yourself off the en-train-ment grid that we as a society have cascaded into and dive into 'truth of knowledge' wherever that may be found; look within every age, every culture, every belief, every myth, even your own words to find the threads of truth woven, hidden, and masked as you speak... even find the truth buried within your own Soul. But most importantly it is to realize how powerful your own influence is that you project into humanity's overall understanding of who we all are, what are we doing here, and where are we going next? The shear weight of humanity's understanding (or lack of) guides the path we are currently unfolding reality upon. We collectively guide that path. And unbeknownst to most, leaving the reins of the future in the hands of leaders is the very act of ignorance that is imprisoning our freedoms so prominently assumed to have been protected. 'Trust me' is the lyrical melody of a pied-piper; the wily lampoon of a jester whom requires the vote of an audience to remain on stage.

Become vibrant in the spectrum of life.

Through self-empowerment and personal responsibility, self-awareness is understood. Which means a willingness to be a flow-er of expansive energy of Divine Intelligence within the realm of each owns personal pattern of experience. The accent is on personal, and understanding this reserves your seat in the orchestra of life. Knowing exactly how to participate in the events of your life is accomplished by obtaining real understanding. And gaining traction in your life develops when you step-away from the deeply engrained victim consciousness and remove your attention from control measures- a polarity ruse that holds you in contempt of co-horts- similar to the judgment of good or evil; either one or the other, but is there another? Yes! And becoming self-empowered does not mean being selfish, it is instead self-respect; self-awareness, your birthright.

There are 4 Universal interlocking Laws of Life; a 'process of manifestation,' creational free energy (seemingly something out of nothing) that forms anew, a progression where words escape defining and a pause that defines the probing. The understanding of which is laying dormant with-in us all, and learning, practicing, and diligently applying, these 4 Laws into the 'process of manifestation' may bestow upon the attentive a mastery of life- seek and you will find. To activate transformation in every aspect of our life requires wisdom. Wisdom is gained through deciphering and applying 'Truth of Knowledge' and tuning into Divine Intelligence, while turning that into experience. And as the truth of knowledge is restored in one's mind, grounded in the roots of experience, and felt in the heart of the matter, an activation of the higher reaches of potential gifts lying dormant within our beings is brought to light. But one must develop self-awareness and step into the shoes as an empowered citizen of planet Earth in order to be the authority over your own inherited gifts. And just maybe, upon initiative to take dominion of exercising full respect of all natural resources of earth, as citizens in cooperation equally with all humanity to restore 'Harmony and Balance,' the heartfelt desires for a synergistic abundance can be realized for all. And the invisible bounty of creation brought into alignment with the true power and beauty of Mother Nature working alongside us in elevating the higher essence of humanity may become reality.

Becoming self-aware opens Freewill!

Each individual must understand how to transcend the walls of resistance, fear, and 'programming' in order to allow a vibrant transformation to happen within their life. Freewill provides this opportunity but it is not an automatic free ride to joy, bliss, and abundance, you will have to know what is going on and how to participate with it. If you remain distracted; mesmerized by the increasing complexity of the world around you, continue in ill health, and choose ignorance, you will miss out, but only because you weren't paying attention. And there are those who are holding on to hope because they believe, (were taught) they will be rescued. They have prepared, and are confident that what they have been told is truth and they feel secure. And even more confusing is the seemingly unlimited versions; interpretations-distortions of histories, artifacts, and legends that paint so many pictures how can one sort through it all and make sense of anything in order to know what they know or be prepared? Ponder between the lies and the Truth will have a way of making itself known. Easy right? Well, not really nowadays for the longstanding lies have you giving away your power so that it slowly pinches off your life force. These lies have steered humanity into confusion, retained mystery and doubt, and distract and control individual focus from magnetizing, amplifying, and creating individual true progression of life; this has manufactured a dimming of realization in progressing and manifesting ones true makeup. And suddenly humanity finds itself upside down in an unprecedented reliance on outside deified and personified forces to bring them life, yet individually fighting for liberty after the discovery of how sovereignty was silently stripped away, as an awakening from a trance is perceived.

Discovering nuggets of Truth over your lifetime and wondering where they fit makes for a long journey indeed. Deciphering Truth becomes an art form in discernment for in time Truth radiates through your whole being as if to be finally cut perfect and polished crystal clear to refract the light of the WAY through no matter how smoky the bio-crystalline mind of humanity has become even if for over thousands of years. And reconnecting to the majesty of Divine Creation; the beginning of it all, in becoming this expression of Divine Intelligence of life along with the multifaceted Lexis of Love will always be one's own personal journey within ourselves.

Unwind what you became to become who you are:

When you learn how to apply the 4 Laws, complete with step-by-step instructions as never before explained, you can then observe the puzzle pieces of synchronicities that produce results and grow your empowerment back. Gaining traction happens when you become aligned or in rhythm with your understanding and your circumstances. The cause and effect of your life is 'In-tune' with the field of your self-aware purposeful thoughts. Your progress is identifiable and measurable; it is inside of you not outside of you.

Law of Attraction

The immutable (misused and misunderstood), 'Law of Attraction' is the glue that brings holds and repels All of creation together for no power or force exists to change that. The first Law in the game of life, the brilliance and reflection of life's original Architect, a Divine Order from the beginning of time, and an auto pilot of Divine Intelligence that determines the use of chaos (separation), and order (creation), with indefensible subtlety.

There are two uses of the 'Law of Attraction.' One is real, the other one is Fool's Gold. There is: 1.) The 'Law of Attraction' (the imposter) mis-based on control and manipulation; greed and power; competition and corruption and a belief that resources are limited so you are pushed into gathering from outside of yourself, sometimes by whatever means necessary for the limited bounty; and 2.) The 'Law of Attraction' based upon a paradox of 'Allowance;' the participation in co-creation with Divine Intelligence-Divine Order, where the manifestation of miracles and magic are born at any moment and can become your norm. The understanding of infinite potential; pi,  $\pi$ .

Learn the rules of creation, wear the attributes of a-tune-ment, and continue in diligence to grasp understanding until breakthroughs are evident. The rain falls on the just and the unjust and the Sun shines on all creatures great and small, and so it is in your freewill; intentional use, or your passiveness, of the 'Law of Attraction.' Certainly by now in this day and age you can no longer believe that we are just pet projects of a creator pushing us around as he/she pleases? It really was not long ago that all of humanity knew the world was flat. And maybe one day the Earth might even turn out to be hollow.

Observation and Curiosity are the childlike attributes within your imagination that by-pass your rigid ego to reveal Truth. Becoming familiar with some workings of nature is crucial to understand what has been lost over time in order to connect the dots of separation and why that directly affects your life.

- a) Like attracts like as in Like-mindedness; Group togetherness. An attraction of like develops when 2 or more (people or fields) are in agreement. You become what you give, you receive what you put out- you reap what you sow. Your intention creates circumstance- empowered by the self. You are power-full not power-less.
- b) Opposites also attract; a polarity action. The two shall become one. Like two sides of the same coin, heads and tails. Each are independent opposites but complimentary to form a purpose. One of each side to form one coin.  $1+1=1$ .
- c) In magnetism: opposite poles attract – like poles repel each other. Energy travels out of the positive pole; Masculine; magnetic North (Geo South-currently) and into or towards the negative pole; Feminine; magnetic South (Geo North-currently). Electro-magnetism is a foundation; though we are in an upside down, reverse, and opposite world (the mechanism that holds 3rd dimension density).
- d) In visualization; a blueprint – your coagulated thought at all times is magnetizing an experience into reality, like-mindedness attracts like experience, or synchronicity. The more synchronicity you experience the more in-tune or aligned you are with yourself, on the same page, a growing self-awareness.
- e) Our ego is neither an entity within us nor an identifier of ourselves without our input. Our ego is a programmable script that we are in charge of to write the program as we gain understanding of how to do so. Growing self-awareness empowers us in making changes to the instructions that we choose to program into this script, it is transcendence; to decrease. And overwriting or erasing incorrect and errant programs indoctrinated into us through distortions of rituals and misaligned habits of society can become transmuted. This program forms the magnet that attracts and repels our experiences. Rewrite the instructions; mind chatter, and change your experiences. Data in – data carried out.

- f) In personalities – Like-mindedness attracts like-mindedness with a common purpose, intention, or understanding. Those around us are a reflection of who we are; both positive and negative attributes. We move towards and away from whom we like and don't like (what we do and don't see about ourselves) and can even become entangled with someone to fulfill both sides of one coin. An off-balanced personality may attract the opposite (seemingly) personality type for balancing effect; either to smooth over the rough edges, lesson learning; or to work together and expand horizons. At war with each other is someone trying to gain control over the other for domination, whereas peace is a complimentary respect of the others independent purpose and is dominion in cooperation. The term equality can be easily mis-understood by many as in reference to relationships because male and female have two separate whole purposes and uses. There is no such thing as equality as a role (an intentional divide and conquer experiment by someone?); for purpose, adventure, and experience cannot be judged as each individuals journey is self-contained. For instance if you focus on trying to control someone (misplaced power) that form of manipulation will also be experienced by you- it is the boomerang effect, which has the many cliché (and age-old) sayings attached to it, you receive back what you mastermind. Also, creating something out of a control frame of mind (eventual implosion) requires that continued focus, an exhausting energy, your energy, to keep it in place. When the focus is broken chaos will ensue in order to reuse the energy's of creation elsewhere, the energy's are moving back to a purposeful creation readiness. Step-by-step you can transform out of a control way of thinking and stop the one-upmanship (which only gets worse until someone stops it- like when the little voice says 'just let it go'), and become creative and inspiring instead. In other words you are inadvertently teaching others how to treat you (react to you).
- g) In elements or substance the same element or substance will attract, or bond to the same element or substance. Also complimentary elements and substance can be enjoined together. Groups of elements or substance can work together, within a sequence or rhythm, to perform a function or result. And likewise opposing elements or substances can repel or react, as energized, to each other to perform a function or result.

- h) The spectrum of radiation from the Sun and elsewhere affects and intermixes with the earth's magnetic field and its poles to create a dance of life in an convection oven. We are directly affected by the North-South magnetic orientation; direction of the earth's field. The iron in our blood is magnetically polarized North and South and flips polarity quickly, a sequence or rhythm, within the pulse of our blood. The Sunwaves; glowrays push (an East and West function), the magnetic field closer to the earth's surface during the day (activity), at night the magnetic field drifts farther away (rest). The day-night sequence; rhythm, creates a bellows effect, a breath sequence; the perfect rotisserie. The spectrum of 'Ra-Diance' act-react within the strength of the earth's magnetic field, which creates a vibration, frequency, or tones- harmonics, in atmospheric atoms, and atomic structures of life, it is a symphony of instructions- a cosmic music of fertility. Most importantly, the Sun's radiance penetrates into the Earth and acts/reacts/creates earthly (electro-magnetic) effects on all levels. Ra-diance in, earth life-Ki out, a ballad of life; a photosynthesis of Divine Intelligence in a petri-dish. A change in the magnetic field changes the sifting properties, and likewise a change in the radiance properties upon entering into the atmosphere and likewise your body. Radiance and magnetism work in tandem with one another-cause, different strengths or weakness' of either produce different harmonic effects. Some associations with the Sun: Travels in a 3 day swirl; 11 year cycles of increasing and decreasing Sun Spots and 22 year cycles of increasing and decreasing Magnetic intensity or activity, and flips/reverses North and South poles within this period. Sunrays take 8 minutes to reach Earth- a breath sequence, wave, pulse, a rhythm. 1,000,000 Earth's can fit inside the Sun. The Sun carries us (solar system) in an orbit around our Milky Way Galaxy @150 miles/second (science's current calculation that is bound to change) and would take around 225 million years to complete one cycle. 1 year; a cycle- with 2 halves or 4 seasons in 12 solar/13 lunar-months, as well described through-out history, the zodiacal and/or personified periods of variant-influenced experience in which to gain insight from for soul maturity. All this of course is within the Matrix of meridians; Nadi's; mechanisms; paths or tubules for influential energy to travel through and includes the invisible ultra-violet corona of the human body, planes within planes, wheels turning wheels, cycles turning cycles. 12 is a framework or sequence of geometric & personified patterns calibrated in time to create consciousness and physical form. The core (nuclear reactor) of a Sun is likened to a giant pink diamond floating in space; space bling.

- i) Solstice and Equinox – 4 points in time (crosshairs in a circle-XO; oscillator) that reach equilibrium or like a zero point; a momentary rest like in a pendulum swing as the cycle continues clockwise through its 4 stages- seasons, during the earth axis tilt movement towards and away from the sun. And is synonymous with a 'whole day;' dead of night, sunrise, high noon, and sunset. The earth's axis has a counter-clockwise elliptical rotation- precession in it that ends and begins at a match-up point about every 26,000 years, a wobble cycle.
- j) The Moon reflects (and rings like a bell) the Sun's (or other) radiance at different strength's, depending on the phase; our view (angle) of the moon from earth. From New Moon to Full Moon (2 weeks) a momentum of energy is available (like an energy boost; the wind in your sail; planting a seed) and increases for us on earth during this period. And from Full Moon to New Moon (2 weeks) the energy is decreasing (refuel, organize, harvest, pace yourself and prepare for another boost), then repeat. Breathe in, hold, breathe out, hold, repeat- a Waltz. If someone were to participate in the flow or the rhythm of the moon phase energy, besides just the Sun-light creational energy, they may find that accomplishments gained traction and maintained organization, a pulse, and progress in life. Forward momentum could ride the coattails of these phases like a 'star-clock' or 'time gate.' By following the pattern of the beginning and ending of a circle as a habit of repeating step-by-step instructions with the understanding of a desired outcome or intent of purpose in mind, a spiral of growth and accomplishments within cycles would be the result. The next cycle of growth builds upon the last cycle of growth. If this works for you great, if not then don't do it. The moon is a mirror;

it reflects how we see ourselves especially during the full moon. Are you a lover or are you the werewolf inside? Life is holographic, and spiral; multi-dimensional and multi-faceted; seen and unseen. Some associations with the Moon: 4 quarters; 8 positions-phases of aspects (purpose), stages of a rhythm like a process for weaving. Each Moon cycle lasts 28 days- 4 weeks of 7 days. There are 13 moon cycles (months) a year, or 13 sets of 4 weeks; 52 (deck of cards- 4 sets of 13). Our current calendar is only a standard for commerce. 13 (hidden gateway) is a cycle of rebirth and resurrection, the hidden time periods of change- Stargates.

- k) Masculine- positive polarity; a creative energy, a Man, logic, XY. Feminine- a negative polarity; a nurturing and supportive energy, a WoM(b)an, feeling, XX. Masculine and Feminine energies have two individual purposes and are to work complimentary with each other, they do not need to compete nor try to overpower the other and they are not in equality nor will that ever happen. There is no role to compete for! The Gender duality of life is complimentary from which to build with, not to compete for control over. We are all- every single individual of humanity in cooperation (not corporation) to have dominion (not domination) over all the Earth- our current home and domain of expression.
- l) Everything in your life is being attracted, repelled or held in neutral whether you consciously pay attention to that or not. If you were to step out of your life momentarily and look at it, stand on the shore as if in self-awareness and grasp the whole picture of cause and effect you could then participate in the ebb and flow of life with full awareness and full disclosure (eventually) of all the rules. You become the conductor of the symphony. You would implement choices instead of reacting to circumstances. Trial and error experiences within the application of the 4 Universal Laws beget discernment for use in expansive decisions without repeating the same mistakes or continuing loops of dead-end and mundane experiences. Hence; an ever-widening spiral of growth is accomplished, severing the captive circle of experience in slavery to nowhere.
- m) Zero point is the field out of which manifestation occurs. Zero point exists between or at a balance of opposite poles (like terminals positive and negative on a battery), a synergistic rest or a modulation of mind. A manifestation can occur, blink into existence, at any point along the direction towards one pole or the other, even at the extreme ends of energy-polarity if a rest or balance can be obtained at that point. Action/reaction is what were taught, but manifestation occurs within a balance point or an entrainment of vibration in order to create a field, a blending of the energy's- Unified Field; like fusion of a battle between sperm and egg. A balance seen and/or unseen resonate to which a manifestation occurs in 3rd dimension. We enjoy a calm or slight breeze, unlike a tornado or hurricane which destroys/rearranges what's in its path- nonetheless, change occurs. When you go, go, go, all the time you spin your wheels, you are not creating anything, you are just reacting to circumstances that you allowed into your life by someone else's influence over you- where's your personal vision; blueprint.

- n) Quality of life in 3rd dimension reality occurs from yours or mass thoughts whether freely thought or unaware; tethered, manipulated or programmed thought. And distortions of truth are further compounding the complexity.
- o) 3rd dimension is the lowest dimension that physical life exists in.
- p) Thought; the word; the beginning of anything is radiation. One thought will travel around the world 7 times in a second, for all is to become known.
- q) Cause and Effect are rooted within attraction. An invention by Divine Intelligence that is innate and immutable. DI V IN E; 2 V IN 3.
- r) Create a cause; whether known, on purpose, or unknown- ignorance (by accident), and an effect results.
- s) Two divergent energies cannot occupy the same space.
- t) Electro-magnetism is the energy that creation uses to organize itself in its innateness within harmonics. Light and movement; sight and sound, eyes & ears.
- u) Time does not exist; it is a no thing, it is only used- a modern invention, to measure sequences of experience, symbolic of the Nautilus Shell-pockets of linear space in frames of perception, though time-ing has become a habit that rules us. Instead, pull yourself out of the time trap, find your resting spot or command post where you can see up-river and down-river and then while standing on the shore and watching the current go by cast your line downstream so it is carried back to you or cast upstream so the line remains taught, but you choose how to use the current in time instead of time using you. Master the concept of time, become in charge of time, mentally get ahead in time, and see it as a tool for your benefit, even to become timeless. Timing- rhythm, cycle, or sequence is used to create harmonics, resonance, and entrainment of a creation.

- v) Manifestation within the Law of Attraction or divine order does not possess judgment. There is no moral judgment applied to what you or anyone concentrates on, only you judge yourself of which praise or ridicule are the jury. We are only told we are being judged in order to scare us into obedience by someone who wants to control behavior for their own gain however large or small that control ruse has been portrayed. Each journey is self-contained and only you are responsible for you. The trial and error lessons teach an individual their own reward and consequence IF Truth is available or sought after from which to learn and grow from. However, current society is so far down the wrong rabbit hole that control measures are implemented as reactions in response to holding onto a system that was created based on control and manipulation. This can only fall apart faster and faster though we got in this position slowly by slowly.
- w) Subtle energy is the most powerful and far reaching energy of all: A drawing or pulling in force; or a releasing, or separating force, as it becomes the energy by which elements or substance, situations see/hear (not literally) what to follow; such as the pinging magnetism from a thought or the constant background innateness that you are. Your pinging magnetic innateness of who you really are will never leave you alone until you finally one day recognize it and align with it, a reconnection- an attention, to your source of life, and then use it to grow your life ever onward. Like a nudging of your freewill, to remember, to wake up! You have a body to experience in, you have emotions to empower your gifts with, you have a mind to think with, you have a Soul that records everything- your specific experiences (which are not judged as right or wrong) and you are a Spirit venturing out that is connected to the Whole of Divine Creation which cannot be denied a return trip home when you are ready. The prodigal son in us all.
- x) There are three types of substances in 3rd dimension physical reality; Metal and Crystal (natural minerals-in liquid, gas, solids) of which form or birth Wood (life support: nutrition chain- sugars, proteins, enzymes, fiber, amino's, etc...). These three categories of atoms/molecules have refined themselves into far reaching substances as we know of today in life. But basically metal conducts and/or absorbs energy, and can be magnetic. Crystal magnifies-radiates, refracts, and stores data and energy, and the wood of life supports, builds and feeds process. So, what would you feed your body? Industrial metal by-products that short out, synthetic crystals that mutate your genome, and dead or rotten wood processed food stuffs that just smolder and rot, full of gums and waxes that plug up and preservatives that insulate like rubber? Is the fox in charge of the hen house of what is allowed or available for nutrition and health? Your body uses alive food; color, spark, electricity. Meteorites fall to earth constantly, they are typically metal and some with crystal, and can also contain between 70 to 90 different forms or types of Amino Acids, an indefinite soup from which life can use and expand upon. The specific ad-mixtures of metal in coins (newer U.S., etc.) absorb your energy as soon as you hold them between your thumb and first finger. Certainly not conducive to a natural Alternating Currency.

- y) 8 (or 7 or 9 or...) other planets are spinning along with us, spinning tops inside the emanations of another large spinning top. Like spinning yo-yo's on a string above our head all emitting tones, frequencies, vibrations, harmonics. A friction of melodies that transmit energy, bouncing, ricocheting, and echoing into a coagulated mass of an invisible energetic force, the dog whistles of space. An invisible force that sings, pings, radiates and sparks actions and reactions with particles, atoms and molecules of substance that are as variant as the properties, placement, conditions, and available potential of infinite possibilities that innateness is on earth and as you have ability to contemplate. Invisible meaning measurable for the most part but incapable of being seen with our eyes, like the wind, we only see the effects. There are over 150 billion (a good starting point) other galaxies like our Milky Way and there are over 15 billion other Earth's just like ours, give or take a few billion depending on sources. And the Earth is from 6000 years old to about 14.5 billion years old, or supposedly according to an unearthed Mayan Coba Stone, the age of Earth is exactly 16.4 billion years old.

What did an indigenous tribe know then that we don't know now (perhaps we know very little)? Regardless of where the truth-lies just 1 other Earth like ours would unravel the entire fabric of the cosmology of humanity sew well zipped up. And that would ruin everything! So has Earth become home to a colony of peasants' being cultured? By limiting choice and tethering your freewill as accomplished through fear, safety, relaxation, even "you deserve it," "we care about you" rhetoric, group control is established. Where did your adventure go? Adventure means discovery, exploration, experience, and self-decisiveness.

- z) There are many geometric shapes that can be drawn over and within the bodies of the human figure, or any life form. The beautiful violet starfish for example is symbolic, as if laid out over the top of your head, of the five point 'thought' process and represents a Crown Jewel. The five pointed star is also symbolic of several planes of five points or locations of energy centers on your body; your two knees, two wrists and just above your naval- just one example. Standing up, with your legs slightly apart and your hands close to being at rest the center of the star magnifies your groin as the focal point, the creation of the physical world. When you raise your arms level with your shoulders than the star center point focuses on your belly, with the top of the star now being your forehead or Third Eye; a bull's eye, XO- crystal oscillator . Then raising your awareness, the higher reaches of the unseen, will raise your Heart center, which must be grown in you. You can draw the five-pointed star over your body and the intersections would line up over your nipples, hips and groin. There is a Divine significance to your power, an inherited connection, your body- being is an 'electromagnetic generator' and can be 'turned-on' in several ways and in certain physical positions. Many depictions of this are abundant throughout history though much of this hallowed and celestial 'Chariot of Fire' was misinterpreted and the WAY lost or hidden. Not all has been lost, as there is still a way in some circles of thought to awaken this potential though you must understand this from the right angle. And use discernment for which bandwagon of truth or belief you follow, absorb, or are, or move too. Are you a moth to a flame (it sounds good and I get rescued)? There are volumes of truth, tablets of riddles, and sword swallower acts that bury the treasures in armored protection. Take initiative and seek Truth. Can you escape from the prison of the loops of lies of beliefs? Alpha and Omega is not a circle!

- aa) The Hexagon or six-pointed star, like that in a water crystal, snowflake, honeycomb or the hierarchical triad matrix that connects everything seen and unseen, represent the frameworks or structures of support-diatoms that creational forces build upon and within. Like a cocoon, or chrysalis that life is transformed within (unlike a coffin; interrupted life- 6 feet under, try again!). An injury or ailment can ricochet into other areas throughout your body following along the hexagonal or tetrahedral structures just as Truth can refract in a Zig Zag pattern and heal or protect. Geometrically energy flows throughout your whole being- Physical, Mental, Emotional, and Etherical. And innately a balance; cooperation is sought between the south-negative- feminine part, left side of your body and the north-positive- masculine part, right side of your body. With this understanding, a result towards whole being healing is more likely, a restoring of vibrancy of life. There is no separation of our 'parts,' though they may spin in different directions.
- ab) The Vortical motion of the outer core over the inner core in the center of the Earth creates the North and South magnetic polarization. It is the same vortical motion within the Sun and within your Heart. The space between the surface of Earth and below the upper atmosphere is the 'Green' zone, the Heart of the Mater. The Electromagnetic polarization of the Sun (+-), Earth (+-), are what provide the poles of attraction around the dance floor, of the Green zone where the womb of creation resides. And with purity of intention focused into the cusp of polarity- the Vesica Pisces, the vagina opens up in which life- Creation, has, is, and can be created in and out through. And when you add-in Father Time (+), and the Goddess (gifts-fruit) of Knowledge (-) (many cultures many names), and Light (neutral) which exists in Space (+), and another physical 'thing' called Darkness (Gen. 1:2-5) which exists in the Void (-); the world of anti-mater, you may be able to see through the reflection; to access the revolving door in the divider that separates our worlds. This other 'thing' as Darkness is something to let crystallize as you focus upon what you intend to do. Two worlds existing side by side simultaneously, a parallel universe in plain sight, though we see only one world.

- ac) Space, Light, White, Prism, Clear, Refraction, 7 colors, is to: Void, Darkness, Black, Vacuum, Cloudy, Absorb, Brown-neutral, in order to unfold unlimited potential. Seeing the balance of life by understanding both sides of nature to create with. A natural contrast when viewed without judgment of good or evil.
- ad) Breathing in through your nose collects... “charged ions on the roof of your nasal passage and exerts a paramagnetic effect on the brain. Or on the expansion of psi-plasma” (Matrix III, www.TruFax.org). Negatively charged ions is the pollen that helps activate your higher gifts, a sweet nectar for perception in enlightenment, conjoined with discovery of Truth of Knowledge of who you are. The false scents; pretty products and ugly pollution that surround us are manufactured positive ions that overwhelm the negative ions in your nose and body, it's a pretty ugly mass destruction, synonymous with the plight of the Honeybee. And along with detoxifying the body of many years of buildup of disease, free radicals, heavy metals, greases, parasites, etc., your body can reenergize and even restore the vitality of your youth. Of course you will have to stop poisoning yourself by learning what benign ingredients/chemicals in the food supply, or the ones you put on your body turn toxic or mutate over time. Body = Crockpot- a living 'easy bake oven,' just add ingredients and let simmer, chef's choice!
- ae) Developing a willingness to let go of the self defeating patterns, a belief in difficulty of life to accomplish anything, and the background thoughts that pop up or that are bombarding you from out there can be transcended of their effect on you. And reformed into grateful thoughts that attract new experiences according to your evolving understanding and your persistence to want to grow. ‘IT’ will not be done for you but ‘IT’ will open the doors for you to walk through.
- af) The Body can begin restoring itself through: Real food and water; Focalization and intensification of thought towards health (opposite of fear); North and South magnetic polarity alignment for free flow of electro-magnetic energy that allow natural radiance- correct spin of energy; dissolving pockets of gums, waxes, preservatives (pine needle tea/a wood solvent); A-tune-ment, tones-harmonics-frequency; PH balanced blood and body, negative ion exposure; and true metal and crystal minerals to support wood nutrition. To become alive again!!!

How long does it take for humanity to learn a lesson?

Life will continue (forever), and experiences of life will repeat time after time until complete (infinity), and that takes as long as it takes (eternity)!!! And that is just perfect.

Law of Intention

A clearly defined intent and purpose: Is a vivid picture; blueprint, of the final outcome excited by emotion- energy in motion, of what it would be like when you have 'it' (the vivid picture) and then with heartfelt gratitude- activation, to allow the time to pass for it to manifest while expecting 'it' to manifest, like the expectant mother or the erupting seed. Align 'it' with harmony and balance; the underpinnings of nature- Creation, and focus for the highest and best good of all concerned. It doesn't matter how many times in the past you have tried something like this. It only matters that you understand your own personal fortitude of doing what it takes to grasp the trial and error lessons in order to perfect your comprehension of becoming what you are. You must experience breakthroughs of your own belief limitations in order to gain self-empowerment. It is a process and one that increasingly opens the floodgates of understanding upon you as you put forth diligent effort; it is just how it works. There is not something for nothing (the rescue state of mind), but there is (seemingly) something out of nothing, the availability of free energy, of Life within the understanding and application of truthful knowledge. The victim believes that others control their choices, and they are waiting for someone, something, or some event to rescue them; anyone can be a victim and being a victim is typically denied. VictimHood; victim consciousness is a ruse, gain understanding to see it for what it is and you can step out of that canon. In doing so, you may experience disturbances or chaos temporarily so remember that may very well be a part of bringing to you a correcting balance of that which you attracted (change of thought change of circumstance). A good idea is to always add into your thoughts; mind chatter, "for the highest and best good for all concerned" or "a win-win outcome for all," that way you will have confidence that all your bases are covered. And you cannot be denied entrance into the innateness of creation, which always moves towards its life potential though chaos can bring correction.

- a) Focus on the final outcome not the howcome. Aim, determination, aspire.
- b) Fertilize your vision with emotional excitement (not the drama depicted on TV), fuel it, work it to a crescendo! And then let it go with gratitude, the activator. Pull your mind out of the darkness and light it up instead (you choose pills don't).
- c) It is like glory, glow ray, glow rod, sending out the rays of energy, you are radiant like the Sun. Become the Lion King of the jungle-earth. "ng"- harmonic. Sphinx.
- d) Do not use will or force to push or make something happen. It is instead your focus on your vision that will magnetize, or excite, the events to create your vision or outcome into manifestation once released to act upon the best way possible for the highest and best good of all. Let Divine Order orchestrate!
- e) Intention is the go ahead command. No green light, no go. It is the tool you use when you are self-aware and desire to create or manifest something as opposed to just letting life happen to you without your input. Going with the flow waiting for someone or something or some event to do 'it' for you without a clearly defined intent and purpose and diligence is victimhood, a waste of life...captivity.
- f) A silent power. Every now thought becomes your present experience as the past from your future. Every now thought is an unformed reality (like instructions or a manual, a blueprint for construction) that speeds into the future so that you can experience it in a formed reality (C of O, move-in day, grand opening, champagne christening) in your present, which means your present is actually from the past, a gift of time delay (for changes, tweeking, editing). Kinda funny when you think about it. Simplistically- think of your thoughts (reality) on individual treads (time) on the top part of the tracks (linear sequence-a film strip) positioned at the center or middle (my-space) of a bulldozer (time machine). As the bulldozer moves forward the top of the tracks are moving ahead into the future before they can roll down and around as the past in order to come back underneath in which to support the weight of the bulldozer. Then the bulldozer rides over on top of the tracks, with all of the treads of thought underneath gripping the ground for traction for the present moment. Your thoughts are the now reality before they move ahead to the future and then become the past to support you in your present moment of experience. Your life is an interactive realtime Hollywood blockbuster movie. That's why dwelling on any past memory will never fix anything, except to tell your future to keep repeating that past memory, it is your time warp. At some point those treads will be on their way back to the top, your pivot point or fulcrum to start over again ready for their next assignment. So learn how to choose your thoughts your constant mind chatter. So it is with your experiences, either continue repeating the same day-by-day life or make an effort to change your thoughts to change your life. It takes time to remember to flood your mind chatter with the right choice of thoughts in order to change your experience. And it takes time to remove all of your diversity of distractions you are intentionally being bombarded with. It is your thoughts that bring you your experience; it is only within you, an inherited gift and your freewill to use it or not. But...either use the power for who you are within harmony and balance for your benefit and the worlds or someone else will use your power for their benefit at your expense, that is the way it is!

- g) Anxiety, worry & doubt hold your thoughts from being able to act on their own.
- h) Anxiety, worry & doubt are indications of areas to work on within the knowledge of the 4 Laws. Take yourself off robot mode and pay attention to your thoughts.
- i) A clearly defined purpose energizes focus and secures the power behind intention, an unwavering faith; an eventual conviction, a placed order. A plot to unfold.
- j) Practice on small manifestations for awhile, like a string of pearls, so that you can grasp as much of the workings of the nuances of subtle energy, the most powerful energy. "It is the meek (subtle energy) who shall inherit (live in abundance) the earth," or those who intend manifest their desire. Be sure you understand your desire first.
- k) And you do not have to beg, bargain, plead or make a deal to receive favor.
- l) And you can always just ask for help in clearly defining your intent and purpose from which to develop your conviction of what it is you are seeking to accomplish, and somehow you will be shown, it again is that simple. You are a Creator being, an individualized offspring of the Whole in training, stuck inside an egg, seed, or chrysalis waiting for the time that you break it open. When you're ready to join the feast of creation you're ready. Focus on one pearl at a time.

The subtle pinging innate magnet of the sparks of Creation are always looking to align themselves with Truth, perfection, growth, enlightenment, abundance and basically infinite expansion into unlimited experiences of life in any dimension from a finite Truth.

Principle (Law) of Allowance

The Principle of Allowance is a paradox as it is only a Law when you know and understand its existence and use it within the context of the interlocking mechanism of all 4 Laws together. However, this Law is the hardest to understand and will require some/much time in pondering. Create your vision, fuel it with Intention then ‘Allow’ it to happen (unfold), and move your thinking into the understanding of the Law of Harmony and Balance- modulation. Here are both sides of this coin:

- a) The gift of grace is a realm of peace in understanding. The true ‘G’ race. The original ‘G’reen- life race; opposite of the current ‘G’reed race.
- b) Hold your vision lightly (the subtlety) with gratitude for its fulfillment. The spirit of gratitude provides more of what you are grateful for and adds to it. You are joining the rhythm of attracting that focus. Gratitude is the avenger!!!!
- c) The eventual understanding that there is no such thing as limitation; uncaptive. Unless 2 or more focus on control and that does include well intentioned or not.
- d) The answer or manifestation to your focus has an infinite ability to figure out the best and most beneficial way possible to bring you what you ask. However, some times the opposite of what you desire comes into your experience; this is in part because opposites attract and unless you propose a barrier or protection the opposite will find a way into your domain called; Murphy’s Law, or the devil. Basically, everything has some form of coating or shell to protect from intruding or deteriorating elements. The bark of a tree, our skin, the skull, a light bulb, a knight in shining armor, earth’s ozone layer, a space capsule, egg shell, etc.
- e) The ethers of manifestation. What energy or frequency is emanating from you?
- f) The stage where the performers are free to express their talent.
- g) The opposite of control and manipulation (which creates/breeds competition).

- h) The point at which thought is released to act upon itself. You are an extension of your parents and so on... Thought has its own intelligence. Just as you have your own intelligence you are sending out a part of you on an assignment and your thought cannot return to you void, unless you cancel it either on purpose or by *doubt (large subject)... the repetition of the cycle of life. The record skips or it plays through, your choice; active participation or passive permission.
- i) The understanding in knowing that 'Only Right Action Happens' ORAH in the manifestation of the desired focus. A developed confidence in that Truth.
- j) The unseen dimension(s) where the mechanics of manifestation are worked out by themselves. Creation knows innately how to follow its own instructions.
- k) It is the 'let go and let God' cliché department (though easy to say, difficult to do, and harder still to understand- but it does NOT mean to give away your power).
- l) The example of what defines truth and knowing which replaces faith over time.
- m) The period of time where real patience is defined. An amount of time will pass before the manifestation occurs. Patience is not a lesson to be learned, that is a Trojan Horse of belief systems. If you pray for patience then you Will be put in situations in order to teach you or show you how to wait for something and only because you attracted that visual or understanding in the first place.
It is an unnecessary lesson of life to learn and totally a mis-understood, mis-translated, and mis-quoted teaching (just one among many). Would you hit your hand with a hammer really hard just so you could feel pain? We are not waiting for someone to do something for us. We are creating our own life experience; our own expression with that which we understand is our self-empowerment and personal responsibility as creator beings endowed with Divine Intelligence that is seeping out through our awareness and experience in an expanse over time. We begin to operate from a fulcrum or pivot point of understanding in that both positive and negative energies are in-fused in which to manifest with, it is not only one or the other. The Balance resonance within harmonics of substances- This porage is just right.
- n) It is where desire lives waiting to express its innateness of expansion.

- o) The opportunity that creational energy of Divine Order; the Isness, the I AM, waits for in order to show you how manifestation operates when entrusted.
- p) The field of perpetual energy that's always waiting in the wings to do your bidding. A battery goes to work when a load is put on it, until then the battery's use is left in neutral and eventually its energy will discharge altogether from lack of purpose. At least keep your battery charged until your purpose is found.
- q) The hidden power of creation. The always available free energy potential waiting for its chance to be sent into action. The Sun, Earth, Moon, and Stars are always interacting and emanating their brilliance- pure majesty's of Divine Intelligence.
- r) A Spark of God waiting for your permission, your command, which is your diligence of putting forth effort to desire your creation or visual to manifest.
- s) The screen on which you observe the show being played out.
- t) The unseen force scientists (too deep in the forest) can't/won't define openly.
- u) The something out of nothing when understood for what it is.
- v) As above so below, as within so without (how Divine Intelligence infuses itself into expression). The crosshairs of life in vortical scope; like a 4 hole button.
- w) The innate potential waiting to be paid attention too (flashing lights here!!!).
- x) Where 'eternity' lives (Just waiting on you to come into Self-Awareness).
- y) When 'infinity' finally concludes (if you recognize the purpose of Allowance)
- z) How 'forever' finally gets a chance (snapping out of stubbornness; prison walls).
- aa) The screen upon which mysteries appear until enough understanding is gained.
- ab) It is the realm where an unwatched pot of water boils. However, the water will eventually boil even though you are watching; mind programming is accomplished the same way unawares- slowly by slowly. The ol boil a frog trick.
- ac) Where the events of chaos and/or order play their role in unfolding a blueprint.
- ad) Do nothing and become nothing, do something and become something, put off learning until tomorrow it will wait until tomorrow, there is no way out, there is no escape, there is only a way through and at some point a start will have to be decided upon. The 'Pot of 'G'old' is an antimatter metaphor. Develop resolve and create fortitude to learn, understand, and practice the workings of knowledge of these 4 Laws. Do not fight bad habits- transmute them instead so they are burned up and no longer repeat in your experiences. Your answer may be instead dependent upon your remembering to watch and change your thoughts with light persistence while also discovering Truth of Knowledge until eventually you will have brought yourself up to a different level of awareness and understanding. Your experiences will begin to change and your views of your surroundings will become defined and clearer. Perhaps an appreciation and a growing respect and love of yourself could be added if not already evident. The importance of your bad habits in time shifts out of focus. Besides, it is really only you that is judging you and if your habits are bad. Criminal behavior is a different category.

- ae) Time is only a linear measurement of events in a sequence called time/space. Time is a free commodity that always marches on. Your decisions of what you do within those sequences of measurement are up to you. Take time to understand how to use time for your benefit. If you are running out of time then simply 'ask' what would be the best use of time that you do have left. Time is always available it is only your view of what it is you thought you were supposed to have done within your supposed perception of allotted time. Reaching a clearly defined intent and purpose of your life changes your perception and snaps distractions out of your thinking; actually, it's quite inspiring and illuminating. Besides time/space is only a 'Phi'-nomena in a 'Beta' world. It's 11:11 - a WAY to cross parallels'!
- af) When you 'ask' you receive an answer; no ask no answer! And when you ask why you will be shown your repeating experience because of your loop of thought that is creating that experience. Unless you can step outside of yourself, hop over your glass aquarium walls momentarily to see the loop, you will stay in your own merry-go-round, Ferris Wheel, of asking why. And life will march on as you ride your own loop de loop. Ask 'how' instead and then observe around you.
- ag) Control and manipulation are the hallmarks of deception, an innately flawed habit of greed in many as articulated in so many intricate ways. Like earmarks of pet projects that are done in secret and operate behind the scenes (where's all the money-debt notes, going?) Deceptions greatest fear is that of being found out, the Achilles Heel of blackmail and extortion. Similarly, this also creates the Shadows in beliefs that many find they have to defend against instead of challenging where the belief came from to begin with. And often times this requires one to formulate and live with red herrings and excuses in order to get around the dead-end limitations that are imposed upon the one perpetrating the lie. Challenge your own beliefs, ask questions, poke around and research for the Truth to bring the lies to light so they lose their stranglehold. The light of truthful knowledge releases the grip of beliefs, ages old or otherwise. You can release the guards from their tour of duty. Truth is finite; a hub from which infinite myth is woven and myth can be unwoven. What man started the rituals of belief you follow? Rules of a prison-control or freedom of expansion- allowance.

- ah) A belief does not change what is real, Truth, or what exists. Allegiance to a belief certainly stymies one from experiencing the opportunity to grow and expand, the denial of one's self as they say. A belief can hold you in a suspended animation of hope and fear and even leave you waiting to be rescued by someone, or something, or some event. A victim believes that others control their choices and anyone can be a victim. Stepping out of a maze of belief is possible over time while pondering, contemplating and shifting your realization at each crossroad of confusion between each; knowledge and belief loop IF desire for the Truth is a focus. If you're comfortable with where you're at then you're all set, carry on. Truth is perceived within the understanding of the moment, encountering or adding Truth to belief may bring about revelation, a shift in enlightenment. What was once taught as truth but still dark in the mind may suddenly sparkle and shine through crystal clear as if an epiphany or alchemical like tribulation; a thunderous change of purity, a lightening strike that transmutes sand to glass, or carbon to a diamond ore iron into gold; the further completion of a potential uncompleted process that was laid in waiting. Purity by fire at both ends; hot molten magnetic metal core of Earth and a radioactive crystalline Sun creates the balance in between for Life to spring forth just perfectly.
- ai) Only someone who is in fear of losing control over someone else, even the whole of society, their kingdom, will implement more measures of control in order to keep or hold onto the control they thought they had to begin with. It just won't work and it will fall apart, that history is what repeats itself until the lesson is learned. The length of time that pain and suffering are experienced is dependent on how long it takes enough of humanity to gain understanding of that ruse.

- aj) The war of polarity can also play out in several sequences such as a typical love triangle; A victim attracts a rescuer, a rescuer fights an abuser, an abuser seeks a victim. Worse yet is a rescuer will become the victim of the rescued. A repeating loop of experience until one recognizes the cycle in order to transmute themselves to stop or withdraw their attention from it. Absolutely help, assist, and spend time with those in need but by all means use discernment to know if you are going too far. A great fish story comes to mind about how help comes to those who desire to learn how to fish for themselves.
- ak) What you resist persists. There is a point in time at which opposition is understood as that which is being pushed into place; a resistance is being built up. Once this is realized as such, then releasing resistance will allow equilibrium into being as long as the resistant focus is moved to a higher understanding. An a-tune-ment has taken place. Within the context of acceptance the resistant veil is permeated and equilibrium can be reached. Areas of your life that are blocked will flow once you're ready to find the barriers of resistance and release their foothold. Starting with gratitude and then moving towards Self-Empowerment, Truth, and then application into experience moves you forward. Hoping barriers in your life will go away only hold that barrier in place for another time. Avoidance is still leaving the barrier in place. Limitations implode your essence.
- al) It is the switching mechanism from 'I don't want...', to, 'what I do want' (it later becomes what you know and intend to create) coupled with the understanding of allowing time to pass in order to accomplish the new thinking. Old habits die hard but with fortitude you can push through the laziness. Even a glimmer of a result raises inspiration, which fuels desire and increases traction. At first you may become like a teenager in a Mustang but you'll settle down into a savant in a Lamborghini. Modulation of these 4 laws opens locked doors.

Ex: 'What are all these bills?' or 'where is peace in life,' etc. Create the readiness for opportunities to increase your abundance in whatever form that applies for you, expand your understanding with imagination in order to live how you really want to live. Make a decision of what it is you are looking for and start there. That is a beginning of self-empowerment and personal responsibility while also becoming self-aware.

- a) It is the place, the innateness from which the cells of an embryo continue to split and multiply until eventually a quorum is reached and within which an understanding is accepted to then form groups of yet more specialized independent functions and so on... This is an expression of the innateness of life stemming from the spark of creation electrifying a DNA blueprint. And whether that DNA blueprint is perfect, damaged or has been tampered with Divine Order looks for a way to work with what has been provided (genealogy) and goes to work to unfold, find a correction, or even begin a new stage of expansion once the full formation of mind to modulate power correctly passes the test. Allowance is like the expectant mother, the baby's progressing and will be here soon enough, just no sooner than around 9 months (cycles-time). Now just be patient within personal responsibility and partake in preparation for that new lifestyle to enjoy the gift of life on its way.

* A great relief valve or release when you feel anxiety or have fear or as often as you remember it, is to say to yourself: "I am a human becoming, help me to become," or "they are a human becoming, help them to become," or "we are all humans becoming, help us all to become." ("Becoming" by George Green) Use it like a pump, it opens attention to perception. Even imagine yourself consumed in a purifying Ultra Violet flame that is burning up all the impurities within your mind and body, and your emotions and etheric realm energizing all your cells and circumstances, like the process of burning out the impurities of Gold. Let the flames soar right through your whole being eating up all the toxins, bacteria, sludge, grease, virus's, cancer, disease's, anything that doesn't belong in your body begin to see it burned up and see the flames extend way above you, the bigger the better. The more you practice the more effective and real it becomes. Oh... listen to some good ol classical music too, and let the sonic tones and frequencies vibrate your cells back to their youth. Maybe you'll discover the little gift of magic hidden in those orchestral arrangements they left behind for us.

It's not what they're doing it's what you're doing!!

Principle (Law) of Harmony & Balance

Again, the Principle of Harmony and Balance is a paradox. It is only a Law when you come into the understanding of it as used within all 4 Laws as interlocking together. And then your life becomes expansive, eventful, enjoyable, blissful, sovereign and free, the use of nature's perpetual energy on your side; responsibly. Understanding both light and dark polarities either learned through experience or understood vicariously is key to possessing discernment within self awareness. And where you are you are safe, instead of looking for a safe place, regardless of chaos around you. Coincidence- circumstance may also move you to another place. Become balanced, focused, trusting, and in-sync.

- a) If what you resist persists, then contemplation of your thoughts that are responsible for the resistance can be discovered, rethought and released so the energy holding the resistance can be brought into equilibrium. Growth.
- b) There is no reward for being a good person and there is no punishment for being a bad person there is only manifestation of your thoughts brought into your reality. Reward/punishment-consequences is a made up thing called control, and forces behavior modification without providing Truth for inspiration. The habit of an out of control current society trying to patch up the holes as quickly as possible which only begets more control and the loss of freedom. Cause/Effect is the Law of Attraction and when all 4 Laws are used together with full comprehension the rules of how this game of life is really played becomes vibrantly and radiantly clear. These 4 Laws are a tool, your rod, your staff, to use in the conducting as a self aware, self-empowered, personally responsible animated life form being infused with/of Divine Intelligence to Create your life within of your own earned freewill. It will literally seem like you're going the wrong way as if walking through an oncoming crowd. Truth really is stranger than fiction!
- c) And it is the comprehensive understanding of the operation and mechanics of how polarity is used to attract the tails side of the coin when the heads side is introduced of the same coin; or as they say 'the carrot on a stick' which is how overall control has been established. Adjusting your perception, or gaining understanding for the ruse that it is helps you to shift your focus in order to operate from an observer stance; to momentarily be in neutral or a grounded state, outside of either side of the polarity scale, like catching your breath. Then in retrospect introduce your chosen thoughts and understandings; discernment, of how you want to live your life. Would you want to eat a new meal off of a dirty plate from the day before? And also see the world in freedom and your life will move in that direction; your circumstances change to match that higher vibration.

d) A definition of: Darkside polarity is “If I can’t have it you can’t either,” and Lightside polarity is “I am doing this for your benefit” (www.TruFax.org). Both polarities have been in operation for eons and have gained strength in their effectiveness and have deep roots in maintaining the seesaw effect on the mass consciousness. Good people can be deceptive and evil people can bring to light the Truth not before seen- discernment has many faces. Learn these definitions well and observe how deep the roots have grown. Ex: The creation of war pushes humanity, by way of reaction, to desire the opposite side of peace – a mass cry to stop the violence steals the masses power into the hands of leaders who can then maintain the power over the people. The oldest trick in the book and used many other ways. Withdrawing your attention from that game is certainly not an easy thing to do because we are all in the undertow of this current within the game and others are suffering because of the mess they- a congress of baboons caused, typically long standing at that (‘they.’ is whomever this man/woman, groups or organizations- ideology is/are operating from behind the curtain out of greed, power, ego, and pride whom follow the polarity flow either with purposeful intent knowing the deception that is being perpetrated and played out, or because of their own ignorance are continuing it. Or even feeling superior over others they have joined forces with this momentum of provoking or pushing for their own gain, mass consciousness into a negative thought pattern in order to hold back humanity from reaching a higher or enlightened state. Actually they themselves are scared to look in the mirror for fear of what they may really see and now were all sucked into their issue, that certainly is a long hard climb uphill). In the meantime... raise your own awareness through personal responsibility and share that understanding with others around you, empower them and anyone everywhere you go in order to help more individuals to withdraw their attention from this antagonistic provocation game and help move others understanding to a higher plane. This empowers the masses in the right direction, drawing a line in the sand (not towards resistance, rioting, violence, and anxiety where we are headed and being tethered too now- the monkey that won't let go of the banana is the one that gets caught). Promoting individual community cooperation with emphasis towards advancing life into new and expansive ways to live without a hierarchy of leadership will reduce and weed out positions and leaders who want to control. This transition takes time and the momentum is subtle and powerful, but the illumination of attention into personal responsibility and self-awareness multiplies. And someday this polarity trick will never be repeated once the understanding of this ruse is gained by humanity. This is turning the other cheek- taking your power back, and leaving them to fight amongst themselves.

Discernment is key in deciphering current affairs- is the broadcast of an event (first off is it even real) out of a genuine concern or is it to create a reaction, 'to get your goat,' 'bait you,' like setting a trap with bananas- something you want and can't let go of, or believe in and must defend- your Achilles Heel if you will. You may be taken back upon realization of the magnitude of the deception and that it could not be so, yet the signs have been all around all this time- a reflective two-way film on a divider of two worlds; a cloak over the looking glass so you can't see who you really are or are to become but they can watch you and you can't see them watching. Mirror, mirror on the wall who's the fairest of them all... a classic fairy tale of darkside polarity... but oh so true.

- e) Manifestation of thoughts occurs into your reality when equilibrium has been reached; conditions, circumstances and vibratory rate matches them.
- f) Everything in 3rd dimension physical reality is made up of atoms of substances that are attracted or repelled (and neutral) to or from each other based on a + and - and/or a North and South electromagnetic field of energy. And you are the coagulated magnet of the experiences and/or thoughts you attract or push away by

- intention or ignorance. Your intention changes the electromagnetic field. Is the realization of life that simple to understand? Yes, it is the battle for your thoughts, whom or what will you empower. Decrease complexity to increase your simplicity and accelerate your potential (focus on outcome not howcome).
- g) Potential is unlimited only we discard it with ignorance; in some cases the more educated we become the deeper in the forest we go. A degree will bring you a paycheck and a professional license requires malpractice insurance... Yet learning Truth of Knowledge is an extracurricular activity?
  - h) Radiance, frequency, vibration, electricity, innateness of desire, the Spark of Creation that radiates intelligence promotes growth or allows entropy in order to fulfill a creational focus of thought. Emotion and logic are complimentary.
  - i) Signs and symbols are everywhere symbolic of Truth and deception. A part of a language that operates through sight for evolving your being. You are either intrigued by them and investigate, don't have a clue, or you're terrified and run for your life. Sacred treasures are sealed in time waiting for Truth of Knowledge to restore their meaning. Many sacred signs, symbols and numbers have been stolen and diabolically used (or misconstrued) to conjure up power (like mindedness) to sway the forces of energy in their favor by focus and are used in various traditions, rituals and beliefs even advertisements to accomplish a result; even to terraform your atomic structure over a long period of time. Just because a symbol or number is being used the wrong way doesn't mean the symbol was originally intended to portray that perception. Restoring Truth and understanding behind signs, symbols, and numbers breaks the focus of those who are misusing the original intent (or using intent with negative images) of those symbols and transmutes any conjured up energy. Self-empowerment grows discernment and will aid in removing any negative effect upon you, such as taboo's that scare you which may be associated with a specific sign, symbol, or number. Raise your understanding to a higher plateau and use symbols to YOUR benefit and the world's. Pictures program the subconscious- as in the hieroglyphs of the ancients. And pictures focused upon with the intent of reprogramming the subconscious accomplish this quickly- a picture is worth a thousand words. Purposeful intent supported by resolve is focus- you are either being programmed without your permission or you are actively choosing to program yourself. But know this, no amount of subliminal influence can alter the emotionally held conviction that is focused upon a desired manifestation ('Becoming' by George Green).

- j) Chaos, disorder and entropy can be considered precursors of construction – tear down what is no longer of use in order to reuse and build for that which is new. Chaos and tearing down are not purposeful intended thoughts that you would spend your time focusing on (vengeance). But instead chaos and tearing down may just happen to be a necessary step in order to bring into being that which is responsibly intended as a final outcome. In other words...flip the coin of experience and be responsible for growing your life which in turn affects others lives, instead of focusing on tearing down or competing for what someone else may have that you want. When you intend growth, abundance, and expansion of life to all you have no choice but to experience what you are putting out. Chaos and tearing down may become a part of that but that is for life to decide how to use chaos and entropy if at all necessary for your benefit. Whatever has been built through control and manipulation will eventually be torn down for there is no supportive (free or perpetual) energy from nature within it (auto-pilot of Divinity).
- k) A cycle of day and night is the Harmony and Balance of growth and rest in the energy of light and dark. A pump, like breathing, which maintains sustenance through a repeating cycle. Yet the longer the holding back or captivity and control over natural progression the larger the build up of energy to correct it. Like a bad job or unfulfilling relationship, energy builds up within circumstance until, well, basically you can't take it anymore and you finally do something about it, or it collapses of its own circumstantial energy flow in order to move on.
- l) Knowing manifestation of situations, circumstances, opportunities and physical realities is based on your encompassing thoughts, mass or individual, is self-empowerment. Wondering why things in life just happen to you is ignorance or loss of power over your destiny and is a symptom of the belief in giving away your power to something anything outside of yourself. Anyone can transition out of the rituals of beliefs that cause stymied experience and move into the maturity of a creator by the use of Knowledge, and also where-by deductive reasoning becomes skillful, whereas traditional learning by rote is robotic and empty. All beliefs appear to work because they operate in the Law of Attraction with Intention of that belief through ritual. But the path of a belief dead-ends due to the imposed limitations within its makeup. This cuts short the ability to conceptualize Truth's that would normally ring true through every cell of our body aligning it into health and vibrancy of life. Your life is an exact reflection of your belief, if the belief works for you than so be it. We may be experiencing a dark polarity on earth presently but the desire buried deep down within most of humanity is to not continue this loop of same ol, same ol experience into the depths of negativity any longer. A process of correction, of enough of the learning of this thousands of years old lesson, is and has been underway, a refraction of the innate correcting ability of Harmony and Balance within Divine Order. The current control, and bankers paradigm of experience, the hijacking of humanity tethered by debt notes money that started long ago, is not how it was meant to be, so adding your focus into Truthful understanding is key to transcending this controlled way of life. Someone has erased key directions off of the treasure map of this life and left us wandering around in circles within the maze, it has certainly built up quite a log jam of souls. We do not serve, nor are we servants to anyone, and we are not jars of clay left to be molded by someone else's schemes of their idea of an imposed lifestyle. Unless you don't mind limitation and maybe you don't then that's your contribution in the grand scheme of things. However, isn't it time to open higher understandings of the dormant potential within us all and continue up with our journey? Seeking Truth brings you more Truth faster and provides a larger knowledge base in which to experience an acceleration in enlightenment.

- m) Each generation has been filtered down into a lower density or a lesser understanding of themselves; dumbed. As long as you cannot see yourself you can be drawn slowly into supporting any monopolized ideology and offered choices that are seemingly made with freedom of choice in the appearance of your inalienable right of freewill so that you believe you are living an independent and free life. The parameters of these choices have been carefully structured, well thought out, and solidified within the societal, public, and governing systems that created them. A patrolled and fortified domain that distracts from: individual and community/group self reliance and sustenance including free and perpetual energy in all areas, and the activation of latent superhuman gifts within you, just to name a few. This is encapsulated into many industries, many walks of life, and for example even targets age groups to ensure that 'no child (easy prey) gets left behind'- indoctrinated. The brain may have varying degrees of measured intelligence but anyone can tap into the Omnipotence, Omniscience, and Omnipresence of Divine Intelligence as soon as they become aware of their own ability to do so. Life changing understanding can take place within weeks and months in-part by contemplation and pondering of the mechanics of these 4 Universal Laws. These 4 laws provide a formula or guideposts that can literally provide the impetus to burn up the paper tiger of limitations and illusions in your mind.

- n) Prophecy's, predictions, and premonitions are only a reading (some are just guesses), of the current trend or energy flow in your life, someone's life, or mass consciousness's movement towards a result, effect or outcome. The flow of life; the future, is not cast in stone or only predestined, it is fluid, influenced by thought, and unfolds by ritual or habits of thoughts and beliefs and is governed by freewill. Fulfilling ones purpose may be considered preordained; whatever paths traveled and choices one makes affects ones individual timetable of self-discovery. The future arrives from the thoughts that march toward it; whether written down from ages ago and believed, or spouted openly as predictions of what may happen by someone's interpretations or perceptions and may or may not be true, and can certainly become self fulfilling prophecies, obviously propaganda works. Discussions of such perceptions can certainly be beneficial well intentioned or not, and yet can empower the very thing to come upon us or can dismantle the energy of its forming. Where is your discernment? At any time, any prophecy, prediction, or premonition and now adding in propaganda, can be allowed, interfered with, stopped, or changed through decisiveness of thought and realization of individual or mass empowerment to do so. This realization becomes understood upon a conviction of self-empowerment with personal responsibility coupled with wisdom and discernment of the far reaching nuances of subtle thought within the self awareness of individuals or the group mind and the empowering effect of these 4 laws within Divine Order to manifest its own most perfect solution. Uncaptive freewill allows real choice within full understanding of the game of this experience, knowledge provides understanding, and wisdom gained grows discernment. And currently there is already an abundance of built up energy for anyone to participate with to use for purposeful intentions who grasps what is really going on here.

- o) Balance of energy = conditions for manifestation, and harmony of frequency = a creation of the order of elements and substance from a clearly defined intent and purpose spoken/thought into existence. The organizing of unification where stillness speaks; the sprouting of Green, from a brown dormant seed. Though green is currently being heavily proselytized, this may also be to create a belief that a future carbon tax on ~~consumer's~~ individuals by making them feel guilty/responsible for causing a Global Warming is necessary. But who really benefit's from those debt notes anyway? There are many lifestyle choices available to humanity that removes this propaganda and those perpetrating it from power. There are beautiful pictures available of the polar ice caps on other planets melting just as fast as earth's including similar phenomena of intensified radiation and electromagnetic activity caught on film. When you add your focus to a picture of wholeness of earth you are joining that rhythm, energy and power, an alignment of Divine Creation instead of developing a fear of change. Your life moves and changes towards that uplifting and supportive celestial outcome. You begin to experience a balance of energy and a harmony of frequency and are 'caught up' into that resonance.
- p) Our bodies; the atoms, molecules, and cells grown and ordered in place by the DNA blueprint is a mathematical action-reaction equation of instructions. Our material body is made up of, influenced and supported by; metal, crystal, and wood components that also act-react with: what you put in and on your body; your environment; and your thought. And regulated by our hormones which operate and are triggered in the brain based on a digital binary system of 1's & 0's within a PH balanced body and blood. We are truly a walking miracle of unlimited potential; a multi-dimensional supra-conscious immortal being. Would we expect anything less? An adventure through 3rd dimension homing in on the WAY through. A Fifth of Spirit in the Hex of Time.

- q) Our Skull has an interesting makeup. ...The shape of our skull as viewed from the top is an oblate spheroid, which by rules of Sacred Geometry this configuration is a function of the constants of PI and PHI. An association with a resonant cavity that can enfold a Unified Field. The five bone plate's sets up resonances in a five-fold (star) standing wave pattern that interacts with the liquid crystalline resonating organic structure of the brain. Different parts of the brain resonate with certain frequencies, around 840 to 890 MHZ and can transduce 3 dimensional and hyperspatial components. The Cranium bones are made up of ionic crystalline structures of calcium carbonates and phosphates. The ionic structure of (real) calcium allows for a 12-dimensional tensor field to be held in 'space' in your skull. From resonance to energy to mass, our skull-brain-mind combination is a biocrystalline receiver and amplifier sending and receiving in an inter-dimensional connection and resonance... (Matrix III-www.trufax.org). Thus creating the 'atmosphere' for resonance necessary for holographic viewing of either what is projected into your head or what you have decided to fill your head with yourself, too create with! A Crystal Skull; the Crystal Corona; our Bell of Liberty.
- r) The perfect language is mathematics. Knowledge of the Truth includes the mathematical correlations of signs and symbols, the original language. Stories of old painted pictures that sparked visions of higher realms forming arc's of vivid thought bridging gaps of understanding, and creating radiant holographic images within the darkness of the mind that tuned every atom of the body into agreement when Truth was told like the lightning bolt down your spine. The nuggets of Truth have been scattered throughout many histories and buried in the treasures of every culture. There is not one place or belief that has all the answers. The 'Pearls of Wisdom' that get passed by, ignored, even removed from public knowledge, have created the many separations, and delusions amongst cultures. Step outside of your comfort zone, peek through the veil of your current rituals of belief, go outside your mirrored walls to restore the spark of your covenant.

- s) A rich man can't get to heaven... because he is comfortable. The star-clock of change, 11:11 will knock on your door, it is a paradoxical catch 22; like a combination Hollywood style Phi phenomena and Beta movement hologram. An astral bridge you and yourself will be faced with to make a decision either to cross over; slip through the cusp (are you ready to be responsible for all cause and effect in your life, like turning 18) or remain comfortable and distracted with where you're at and experience the destiny of that path. The baby is too scared to come out and too big to stay in the womb. Yet the labor pains have already started, the circumstances of fate (from your Higher Self) that guides you along. The story of your life experiences are for 20/20 hindsight (to see with) in order to help you make that determination. Your past has many generations of light; ages of 7 daylight cycles orchestrating the evolution of creating/maturing your spectrum, as Truth cannot ring inside of you unless you have memories of experience that will spark perception to light up signs and symbols from along your journey. PI in the sky is apropos. Within the four steps (quarters- 40- XO) of a circle or elliptical sequence a spiral of growth straight-a-way unfolds. It is the sovereignty and frontier of freewill of an inherited birthright that provides freedom of choice within self-awareness- three gifts. It is what our Creator can prepare us for and by using nature as an example, and artifacts and signs and symbols of knowledge, and by providing as many parables, fables, metaphors, tales, and stories of life; life as art and art is life, as can possibly be thought of to try and explain how 'it' all works. But just can't do it for us, make that decision of how or when to claim your empowerment; that one thing, for it is impossible for Him (masculine-creation) to do so and he would if he could, but he can't. Imagine that, something Divine Creation just can't do, but He'll always be there with us for as long as it takes. And the longer WE take the longer the pain and suffering go on. Now is a good time to start, just ask for the Truth and it will be shown to you in the best way possible for you to understand it. It may be as simple as hearing the sneeze of confirmation when truth is thought or spoken.

A subtlety of Creation within time and space

The Milky Way galaxy is on a 20 billion year orbital trek around its Sun, and somewhere out there is a central sun in its own gyration and swirl, the hub of a wheel in perfect rhythm. With spokes of oceans of galaxies all in different energy fields and forms, not one is the same yet all continue to expand in their own individual time. And like an overgrowing forest it too will continue to expand ever outward and evolve of its own accord with whatever is available within its reach to expand with and from. As the winds of change bring in new elements and take some away, the scape of the forest changes within its own ecological rhythm in an intention to express itself as it knows of nothing else but to express itself in expansion. And Divine Creation continues to expand and create as many variations and expressions as can be multiplexed within infinite fields of imagination and rhythms' of circumstance to continue that process. Like seeds reproducing after their own kind amid different soils that provide subtle variations of instructions and intricate nuances from different substances and elements that have happened upon their doorstep, a profusion of life becomes aware of itself over time as it reaches that pinnacle to do so.

As in the eminence of an overflowing forest a unity of connection is contained within the reaches of desire as it spills over to the next field expanding its kingdom without limit. The same can be imagined in the overflowing galaxies out of universes' as they continue to provide new playgrounds of systems and planets from which to explore. No big bangs of a beginning and no gravity's of control that purposely hold back the adventurers' from seeking new territory. Just a connection within the desire of innateness, an awareness, a consciousness, an overflowing vibrancy of unconditional Divine Love allowing sovereignty and freewill of choice for contrast that spilled over from across the way a long time ago. And as in like the fish of the sea and the birds of the air and the beasts of the field they are free to go about their venture in any direction their inherent thought and instinct allow them too. When they have explored their limits and come upon all four corners of their world a desire to go beyond well up inside them and thus begins the momentum of change once again. Desire fuels intent and activates attraction to bring them the very vision their desire created and in time the synchronicities of Divine Creation coalesce together to form the outcome within the harmonics and balance of substance formed of light out of the darkness once again, for it is 'thoughts' that command matter. Likewise within the genealogy and seeking home pinging innateness of individual conscious carbon copies of expressions reflective of our Divine Creator, another jewel of creation will awake in time, to become 'illuminated' - enlightened in self-awareness, and will give back to creation in turn.

Love is the most powerful and creative of emotions, the source of all of life's Divine connection and is a constant obsession to search and find, a long journey of experience and adventure to say the least. Fear is love's most extreme opposite in the negative polarity and has been used as a wedge, a tool of distortion, which was inserted into the bounty of Truth of this finite history's legend. As the wedge of fear split the polarity's wider apart, the other edge of love was eventually pushed out of site, and thus began the layering of control and manipulation to divide and conquer. But when you ask how to blend your mind and emotional creativity into the oneness of Divine Creation, the lightbridge between logic and feeling come together in the Heart and the transfiguring radiance of the Emerald City will shine forth from within you. The golden jewel of a heavenly kingdom.

Summary

Becoming self-empowered activates transformation, and learning personal responsibility of cause and effect in one's life heals the entire human aspect of living. Empowerment is the divinity that must be grown in you through applying knowledge into experience to gain wisdom. And then use as discernment to make decisions with in order to gain traction without having to continue learning repeating lessons. It is simply doing it simply. It is then that the floodgates of heaven shall be opened within you.

The world will change either for better or worse and each of us will rise or fall within the destiny of that change according to the overall accomplished understanding of all of humanity and only you judge yourself of your contribution while you were here. The labyrinth of knowledge is a step-by-step process of acceleration, the levels of understanding open as you reach them. Upon a few successes of correlating your efforts with that of manifesting small events, circumstances, and realities into your life you will automatically apply your experience to bigger and better things. Moments of insight are gained during periods of quiet time whether only a few minutes or longer but experiencing the glimpses of understanding is certainly motivating to practice this more often. Exerting due diligence in raising your understanding is a purpose. The little engine that could... work it to gain the momentum.

Your life may not change overnight but it will immediately begin to grow towards any new understanding you acquire in a positive and expansive motion. Eventually each of us will have to go back and clean up our own mess we made while we were here, for someone else cleaning up after us will get old and only lasts for so long before the music stops and they instead allow the consequences to unfold as is. If we stand-by and watch events unfold without focusing our intention into the mix for the better then we have denied our own inheritance and missed an opportunity of exercising self empowerment and personal responsibility within new found self-awareness.

A momentum is building, a subtle harmonic pinging in the background and improvising many methods to be heard, moving and aligning life back into balance though mostly chaos right now. The sequence of galactic planes also are tuning into phase, a final combination moving into place before opportunity opens momentarily, and when its gone its gone until the next cycle(s). And remember these cycles were in operation before we got here, ignorance is no excuse before the law. Seeking discovery of Truth is when spontaneous healings take place, the miracles of life appear, and the opportunities of a lifetime (eons) show up at your door. This opportunity of the events and circumstances as described in verocious revelatory dreams; prophecies of tribulations, and turmoil with gargoyles and angelic melodies of comfort is an “End of an Age,” an opening of seals revealing Truth for the first time in a cusp of intersecting cycles.

Even earth’s magnetic field has been weakening as it has many times in the past before the poles flip and power back up to full force again. This weakening of earth’s magnetic field allows in magnifying focal energy of radiation which most certainly will cook any denser material not capable of withstanding the exposure, yet maybe this radiance will activate-react upon any dormant, buried or latent DNA potential, or any other potential. And along with your balanced intention can accelerate and illuminate the human genome; the ‘Fireman’s Lattice,’ to unseal the codes in your bones in a whirlwind of fire to light the prism of a ‘Rainbow Man’ becoming. Perchance this time one will not have to lie down in the King’s Chamber of the Great Pyramid to partake in illumination like they did in the old days.

Moreover, opportunities for new creations, inventions and multi-dimensional technology will be available to anyone, and can be created by anyone, that will surpass in evolvement of what currently exist today but only within the understanding of personal responsibility of the restored 4 Universal Laws. As you see the entire world living in cooperation, energized in the Whole light spectrum of vibrancy of life, you and we will move towards that frequency and obtain that experience; a rhythm entrainment. The voice of light. The water within you is the prism that refracts the brilliance around you.

Where there’s quartz there’s gold!

May your Soul become enlightened.

Conclusion

Traditionally seeking knowledge was an esoteric privilege and one that eventually brought a great humbleness and respect for how long creation has taken to manifest itself. But by removing a little Truth from each generation the course of humanity has segwayed into a negative expression of captivity. And with this fortified campaign to maintain your freewill through distractions, the dismantling of your essence to captivate your soul, there is virtually no time left in order to have enough time to prepare yourself before the opportunity of the end of this cycle to gain your freedom back. We are at the end, a separation phase- the survival of the fittest- a course of allowance of those who know and can participate in change right now or for those who choose differently will be left to have a chance another day (for no one will ever lose out on being able to return from whence they came- even if that takes an eternity). Life self perpetuates in support of itself and finds a way to restore itself. You can realign your life with Truth, regardless of continued mis-understood age-old teachings or parody's of the end of the world. There is no fire escape. Share and provide Truth with diligence. Fear is lack of information, and confusion is something to get to the bottom of... develop precision of thought.

Freedom may have a new ring to it when you see things differently. The code to crack our liberty has been a centennial process disguised to tether our freewill into choices of limited experience that take away from adventures of Spirit. These choices are programs that create a safety consciousness of the dense physical world around us. Maintaining our status quo of unrecognized, as of yet, victimhood self perpetuates this theft of our character and ignorance which supports a continued momentum that has an effect upon our genes recalibrating our being into a lowly dense existence. There is not helplessness, there is only personal choice of active diligence and tenacity in seeking the Truth to become who we are, OR passive permission to allow our life to follow the deception played on current humanity; a controlled march slowly by slowly into a negative polarity anti-future of a transmuted enslaven populace of decrepit soulless clones, drugged by psycho-tropics, and 'franken' foods, tethered in a trance by subliminal instructions through the wireless synthetic eie nectar of the gods (tele-comms). A literal blue dot will appear about one foot in front of your face when you begin to open up to the Truth of who you are and see the world around you for what it is; a programmed vertigo horizon of enter-ainment. Keep your head clear of corded entanglements to protect your hormones as you bite into the Truth so you can decipher whose message in this world is getting delivered. Though we are all a divine holographic fragment of the whole graphic of Divine Creation we all have a part to play. Some of us just have more ice to melt until we completely thaw out before growth begins, and that takes time, seasons of time that you can control when the opportunity arrives. Yet sequential time is running out for this time around, the cusp of ages is only a momentary second in the grand clock of cycles, and now is an opportunity to help melt that ice quickly for as many as who can become self-aware. For we will all have to deprogram ourselves and begin living in such a way so as to not promote the loss of freedoms by giving away our power to hierarchy's of leaderships that want to rule over OUR playground.

Our experience here is like a thermostat; life is on a temperature of variances of understanding, and the degrees reflect our level of experience within that degrees frequency of understanding. The vacillations of life reflect a duality/polarity from one end of a horizontal spectrum to the other at that degree, and each degree has a whole new set of duality/polarity to confuse us even more, or to finally set us free in understanding once and for all. One side of the thermostat is 32 to 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit and the other side is 0 to 66.6 degrees Celsius and moving up. "Your getting warmer" as if hell really was frozen over and we are finally becoming enlightened in the House of the Rising Sun.

Your Third Eye, (hidden arc with stones of codes and a rod of potential) dormant in most, is the darkness in our head that opens dimensions, the doorWAY during a full solar eclipse revolving the illusion of reality like the 'Legend of the Black Pearl' (not the movie). And for real when a black pearl is stared at over time the 'golden ring' manifests and emits a pink light out of the void reminiscent to the spark of life; a Sun, out of know where. And like the 'Fantastic Four' (the movie), reality can be as hard as a rock, then you'll see it move around, and soon you fire up, then it all becomes clear. Light- photons; a particle or a wave, can be attracted, bent, shaped or focused into anything, with a little practice, that you want it to be. The language of light. Enlightening.

Self Empowerment

When darkness fills a void it is only waiting for your light from space to change the reality through balance in time. Life on earth is a reflection of thought and everyone is vying for your thoughts in order to create their purpose of an end result as earth goes through the car wash. Potential is neutral, nondiscriminatory, unlimited and remains dormant until we activate it. When does a caterpillar become a butterfly? Your potential comes with empowerment and the will of Divine Creation flows out through your intention. Each of us of our own accord, within our own holding of balanced intention adds our expression into the whole of all Creation. Understanding this empowers us, hence becoming a subtle glowing light like the brilliance from a diamond that expands upon itself into a radiating starburst, for the souls of man become the Stars of Creation.
